MONARCH BUTTERFLIES

Witness one of the most spectacular natural phenomena in the forested mountains west of Mexico City: Monarch butterflies over-wintering. Every year, these extraordinary insects embark on a marvelous migratory phenomenon traveling approximately 2,000 miles from the United States and Canada all the way down to its hibernation grounds in Central Mexico. These forests become home to millions of butterflies changing the landscape to orange, offering an unmatched spectacle. Fly from Los Cabos to Toluca, after experiencing the butterflies, enjoy a delightful lunch at Valle de Bravo and walk through its beautiful colonial streets.

Duration: Full day expedition

Price: $35,000 USD up to seven guests

Includes: Luxury air and premium ground transportation, dedicated guide, Piedra Herrada Park entrance fees, beverages, light refreshments and lunch.

Seasonal Activity: November to March

GRAY WHALE

Get close and personal with grey whales and enjoy one of the best whale watching opportunities in the world. Each winter, from January to March, gray whales embark on a 12,000-mile migration from the arctic circle to Baja's pacific lagoons. Ojo de Liebre, a secluded inlet in the Peninsula, becomes the lagoon with the highest concentration of whales – with approximately 400 individuals! Fly to Guerrero Negro to experience the whales followed by a visit to one of the largest salt mines in the world. Learn about salt mining while enjoying incredible views of the natural salt deposits. Follow your explorations with a Baja style lunch at a unique nearby restaurant.

Duration: Full day expedition Price: $33,500 USD up to seven guests

Includes: Luxury air and premium ground transportation, dedicated guide, Ojo de Liebre & Salt Mine entrance fees, beverages, light refreshments and traditional Baja style lunch.

Seasonal Activity: From mid-December to March

CANYONS

Drive UTVs, swim in natural pools, hike along San Dionisio's river and indulge in an exquisite riverside lunch. Santiago was once one of the most important sugar cane producing towns in the region and site of an unexpected desert oasis teeming with life. Fox Canyon connects the Sierra de la Laguna mountains with the desert and its river base is home to one of the most beautiful waterfalls in the region, Sol de Mayo, at 12 meters tall.
